“Everything You Need To Know About How To Now Become The Celebrity In Your Niche”

By, Nathan Blaszak CH.

Dear friend,

If you're looking to rise up and become the most sought after speaker, talent, or professional in your niche, then this is the most important report you will ever now read.

Here's the truth:

If you don't achieve "celebrity" status in your niche, someone else is going to!

If that happens, they'll probably steal your original idea, profit from it, and then you'll look back and think "why didn't I just go for it?"

Instead...

Why not now let that dream be you?

Of course, it can seem easier said than done. Most people that I consult with to rise up in their niche online, offline, or even in their local communities all think it has something to do with hiring an agent, getting PR working for you, etc.

While these things can and do come after you start to become more and more famous by using the strategies that almost every celebrity, politician, guru, and even religious leaders use that they don't want you to know however...

You Need To Model What They Did So That You Too Can Now Become A Star!

Obviously, we are not talking about those that grew up in privileged homes that were basically handed this status on a silver platter because of their name.

The truth is there are hundreds of celebrities that just have the “in” so to speak however there are certainly those that rose up as a star that initially did not have this status handed to them because of their name or family connections.

The most well know rags to riches celebrity is Oprah. Celine Dion grew up in a poor household as the 14th of 14 children and went on to become listed as the 5th richest female celebrity bring in a whopping $250 Million! David Geffen – founding member of DreamWorks, Hip Hop Rapper Jay-Z – to name just a few.

Now let these stories motivate and inspire you to believe that it can now be possible for you too!

How?

We will get to that in a moment, but first now realize that...

If They Can Do It Then Now So Can You!

Want to be well known?

Simply put, you have your work cut out for you if you go it alone – not to mention where to even begin. There is a lot of hoops and research that you would have to jump through to learn how to become popular in this world.

However, you might be wondering who the heck I am to be telling you how to become a celebrity. After all, Nathan Blaszak? Who is this guy? I’ve never heard of him!

Wrong! You’re meeting me right now, by someone else by word of mouth!

Not to mention, I hadn’t decided to go into the spotlight yet but I believe that those tables have turned for me, and it’s been happening so fast I don’t see it stopping anytime soon even if I wanted it to!

Just three months ago only just a few people knew me unless they found me through the grapevine (and this is key). Before I knew it, more and more people were coming to my website to read what I had to say. More and more comments, more and more praises, and more and more people by word-of-mouth alone jumped on my email list, read what I had to write, and bought what I had to sell – and I didn't do a lick of paid advertising to get this traffic!

Just 6 months after I started publishing my material online, I went from nearly homeless into a 6-figure a year business on virtual auto-pilot!

Today, I've been asked to speak at numerous public events (which many I have had to turn down). The next one I'll be at is in Orlando Florida, June 24-26th at highly acclaimed (and marketing celebrity) Michael Penland's internet marketing and wealth building seminar.

I hope to see you there and you now better hurry to get your ticket.

To top it off, I've attracted other joint venture partners. Harry Rushakoff – the drummer for concrete blonde. We are working out a business deal together.

Ted Ciuba and I are working together to do business.

And the truth is, I haven't done anything more than to just use a few simple "celebrity status gaining" techniques that they don't want you to know!

The Biggest Secret You Could Learn To Now Fast-Track Your Celebrity Status!

As you now begin your journey to popularity, you're going to hear a LOT of lies. You'll hear parents, teachers, and elders say to you when they tell you to "just get a job and stop dreaming the impossible." What do they know?

If you're anything like me, after I hear someone trying to tear down my dream, I'm not sure whether to remember to forget what they say or just forget to remember what they say about what you now truly want to become. Why give them the power to decide?

This is your life! This is your dream! Hold on to that dream with an iron grip and never, never let go! After all, if you had the chance to meet Oprah, don't you think she'd tell you the same thing anyway? So it's solid advice. Now take it and use it.

Hold onto your dream! You can become big! You can have anything you want for you and your family! NOW STEP INTO IT AND ACT AS IF IT IS ALREADY TRUE!

And if you buy into the "media hype" then you're really missing out. Instead of looking up to any celebrity, you need to now become one yourself! You can't do that by reading tabloids, or giving one lick about what the "news" says about celebrities.

In fact, turn off your TV because that s NOT how you achieve celebrity status!

What Can You Now Decide?

It depends... Do you want to buy into what everyone is telling you how impossible it can be for you to become a star in your niche or community? Are you willing to settle for less profit in your business because nobody likes you or trusts you enough to even want to do business with you?

Why go back to something like that when it can now be so much better and so much easier for you? Why live your days desperately competing for people's attention?

Don't you think it's about time you learn everything you need to know about to now become a celebrity in your niche?

After you decide to now discover the coveted "celebrity secrets" I'd like to reveal to you, here are the benefits you can expect to receive:

- Have people adore you and what you do online, worldwide, or locally for your community!
- Enjoy the effortless sales that come in as a result of being "well-known".
- Naturally be greeted with smiles from others wherever you go!
- Get people to come to you in flocks instead of you going to them!
- Be the "talk of the town" – so to speak.
- Be surprised by phone calls and letters inviting you to special events.
- Pick and choose which radio and TV shows you'll do interviews on.
- Demand higher prices for your products and services.
- Strike up a deal with shoe, perfume, and clothing line manufacturers.
- Get paid lump sums of cash to do commercials for companies.
- Travel the world and be given the VIP treatment.
- Select from an endless supply of potential lovers if you are single.
- Be greeted with a smile by other celebrities.

- Hear your name shouted on the streets and in newspapers.
- Rise up from ordinary to extraordinary.
- Your income compounds and increases exponentially.
- People come to you instead of you having to go to them.

The Solution is Simple!

Look, I realize that you already know that this is not only now possible for you but there is a lot of information that you know that people aren't telling you.

After all, how did Frank Kern, internet millionaire achieve such a high status in a short period of time peddling products online?

Well, how surprise would you be to find out that the truth is – even if he tries to deny it (and he has), it has a lot (and I do mean a LOT) to do with subconscious selling and communication.

Sure, you can call it what you wish – hypnosis, NLP, covert hypnosis, conversational hypnosis, hypnotic persuasion, speed hypnosis, etc.

However, nobody has ever “decoded” the 3-step psychological sequence to put you on the fast-track to celebrity stardom before (and no, not even Kern).

Maybe you've already looked for it. What you'll get is a bunch of advice and scams, really. They'll tell you that you need to hire an agent, take acting classes, drive around in a BMW in rich neighborhoods and talk about random ideas, etc.

Of course, these tactics have a time and a place but if you stick to the “tactics” only then you're missing the underlying psychological principles that make all of this work for you!

It doesn't take long after being misled time after time that trusting someone who gives you these promises that you'll rise to fame and fortune is difficult to do yet you just know that there are people out there that CAN show you what others are holding back on.

Have No Fear My Friend Because What You Now Want is Here!

You can guarantee that nobody is about to reveal to you these 3 psychological sequential steps that you are now about to learn because they don't know them!

In fact, in my research and study about these principles I have determined that almost every celebrity do these sequential steps accidentally – not on purpose!

Can you just imagine that? Here they have all this amazing power to sway large groups of people to fall in love with them yet when they are asked how they do it, they can't give you a clear answer!

And those that DO know, well, they aren't going to tell you because they don't want you to know what you can now learn inside "Everything You Need to Know About to Now Become A Celebrity in Your Niche."

Why On Earth Wouldn't I Just Keep These Secrets All to Myself?

The answer is simple...

People are CONFUSED! And I want them to capture their dream!

If you're anything like me you don't want anymore tactics, you want results! You want a proven psychological secret edge that you can now immediately put to work for you.

I got so tired and fed up with people promising me the world and then giving me random, regurgitated, lifeless theories, and to be frank – getting caught up in their marketing schemes.

You couldn't count on your fingers and toes how many times I fell for the tricks gurus make that promise you fame and fortune by ordering their course.

First, there was so much to the course that it took you forever just to get through it all and sort out what was theory, filler, and worthless so you could pull out the one or two nuggets from their courses that actually do work.

Then... get disgusted by how little they actually knew about it because it was obviously "ghost written" because they don't care about you and your success – just mo' money!

But it gets even worse. After you DO buy their course, within days you're sent email after email to new offers to new products that later I found out was a marketing ploy to get you to forget you even bought their course! Why? They don't want you to figure out that it doesn't live up to the fantastic claims they said it would do for you!

Finally, I got fed up with it and decided to go my own way and do my own thing. I was tired of following guru after guru and to just blaze my own trail.

Well, I wasn't sure if what I knew was actually going to work. In fact, I almost knew it wouldn't and did it anyway. Piece by piece, little by little I started to communicate with a small email list of just 137 people (because I didn't want too many people to notice if I did fail) in a small little niche website I owned.

So here I was, after studying as much as I could about mass control, mind control, hypnosis, NLP, speed hypnosis, covert hypnosis... I decided to give my new technique that I had developed a try.

I wrote a simple report like this one you were reading, and people went stir crazy posting comments all over my blog about it!

In fact, the first time I did this it wasn't even a "written" report because I was scared that people would copy what I was doing without actually learning the nuts and bolts behind what actually makes this work so I made an audio report instead.

Well, in less than 3 months, I went from 137 people on my list to (now get this) 10,180 people!

People by word of mouth advertising alone were all talking about "Ninja Six" this and "Amazing Breakthrough in Thinking" that and "Hypnotic Thought Fusion™" and several other products (these were all information products by the way).

Well, after the shooting was over I had decided to give this guy named Ted Ciuba a call. He's been a marketing friend of mine since the beginning of my career 5 years after I started doing business online 14 and half years ago. I started to reveal to him how I patiently and methodically followed this 3-step process to rise up and become well known in a niche that I had vested interest in (and no, it had absolutely NOTHING to do with internet marketing).

After some discussions, he just knew that this needed to get out in front of every person that could now benefit from these secrets because he knew that anyone – even complete newbies could now leverage this information and rise up quickly, efficiently, and safely without having to worry about how to now become "well known" rather quickly.

Heh, it's funny because I remember the first time someone called me just a month after I used this three-step psychological strategy on my list and when I answered they said "No way! This is THE Nathan Blaszak?"

My goodness, if I'd have known to expect that -- I would've said something better than the fumbled words that rolled off my tongue I can tell you that much : =)

Is This Something You Now Feel Could Be You?

I'm going to be straight with you here. This isn't for everyone because it requires you to assume the persuasion persona. In other words, it is super-technology of the mind that nobody on earth (at least I haven't found it yet) can share with you because I stumbled onto it by complete accident researching the interrogation methods used on prisoners of war (if you could now believe that) and it requires you to use this superior brain persuasion, okay?

Look, it's really simple.

If you keep messing around with tactics trying to make more money, and you don't spend any of your time learning about what psychologically persuades people to just naturally think "now this person is a celebrity authority" then you'll have a difficult time like so many others have trying to claim their place in the niche they're in.

Let those "others" sit around and jump from one course after the next while they finish off their six packs and smokes. More importantly, let your friends, family, even your spouse do their thing while you secretly begin to put this master plan of action to work for you.

It's worth it.

You've Seen It All Too Many Times Before

By now, you've already envisioned at one point or the other the easy money, fame, and fortune that you now believe is possible to achieve. You know what that looks like. You now want to feel what that feels like, right?

I assure you, all hope is NOT lost. I've been in the process of creating this strategy with you in mind and now do me a favor please?

QUESTION: Is it even worth my effort? Do you really want to learn these strategies?

Yes! (I know you do you) Duh.

Please do me a favor and now click here to let me know whether or not I should finish and then release this course, or should I just keep these secrets to myself?

Many thanks!

Sincerely,

Nathan Blaszak

PS: Seriously. I have a lot of projects going on but several very persuasive gentlepeoples have convinced me to consider letting it out to the public. The fate of this program rests on your decision to now post your comment.

PPS: Gee, you know, I realize that if you're the kind of person that likes what you have now just read about and were skeptical, I don't blame you. Please don't hold back on what you have to say about it. Let the world know your opinion.

PPPS: By the way, please don't be a "nerd" and post unintelligent comments like so many do after they "skim" a report and have only read bits and pieces of it. If you must... attach this report to your palm or Smartphone and actually take the time to sit down and give it a good read when you're not distracted before you post your comments about it.
